From The PRINCIPAL'S DESK

Game-based learning represents a significant shift towards making education more interactive, student-centered, and enjoyable. When children learn through games-whether physical, digital, or activity-based-they engage deeply with concepts and develop a genuine love for learning. Games encourage strategic thinking, decision-making, teamwork and perseverance, all of which are vital skills for success in the modern world.

In our school, we actively integrate game-based activities across subjects to ensure that learning is not limited to textbooks alone. These experiences help students make connections, think critically, and apply knowledge in real-life situations. As educators, it is our responsibility to create environments where students feel motivated, confident and eager to participate.

Together, let us continue promoting innovative, playful approaches to learning so that every child grows into a curious, capable and future-ready learner.
